

LOCOMOTIVE BLASTS

Low Waltz and Jim Long are running the Elkon jerk water this week.

Conductor Moody and wife have been on a visit to relatives near Adams Station for a few days. It is a very good thing to have relatives in the country where one can get a square meal once in a while.

Conductor Ed Wilson, of the Elkon route, is laying off a few days.

Supervisor John Davis, of Springfield, was in town Monday. He complimented the Bee by saying it was the newest weekly paper in this end of the state.

C. E. Lane, one of the popular H. D. conductors, paid the Bee office a pleasant call Monday.

Conductor Joe Robertson has freshened up considerably in the last few months. He is getting to be real good looking.

Engineer Jim Long pulled an excursion from Elkon to Nashville Sunday, and we understand a committee of the passengers waited on him at the first stop and asked him to please reduce the speed about fifteen miles per hour, that they were in no hurry and had not been used to riding so fast. One old moss back said: "Look here, young fellow, you ain't running no flying machine and we don't want you to run any faster than Mr. Hampton does."

Col. Willie F. Sheridan has gone up in Ohio to see the folks.

Artie Beal, an old Earlington boy, is firing the switch engine at Guthrie.

Jack Stokes, switch engineer of Guthrie, is at home visiting home folks. Some of the boys at Guthrie say Jack loves watermelons well enough to go after them.

Business on the Henderson division continues good and the boys are kept busy day and night.

Operators Brooks and Prather are working at Guthrie. They make a good pair.

There were several excursions run over the road Sunday, all well loaded.

A coach containing returning soldiers from Mammoth Cave was on 52 Monday.

Will Rowe is a cracker-jack runner. He made the run from Hoptown to Guthrie on No. 91 in 21 minutes. The distance is 25 miles.

The pay car made its usual trip Monday and the boys had money for a few minutes.

Switchman Geo. Hooser is laying off sick this week.

Miles Cannon, a switchman in the yard, had the misfortune to get his thumb mashed a few days ago. It is not serious and he will soon be able to work again.

Operator Grasty spent Sunday with home folk at Mortons.

Dispatcher John Dorney went to Evansville Sunday.

Dispatcher Griffin wants to go to Ohio and spend a month with his people. We understand he will leave on the return of Train Master Sheridan.

There is no use talking; those big Rogers engines can pick up a passenger train of eight or nine coaches and make as good time as the passenger engines.

Sain Manning is one of the nicest engineers on the road and he knows how to make up lost time as easy as anyone we ever saw. He left Earlington on 53 the other morning 19 minutes late and went to Trenton on time, making all the stops.

DOWN IN THE MINES.

President Mitchell of the United Mine Workers is now expressing great fear that some of the foreigners who belong to the order will do some rash act that will bring dishonor to the organization thereby causing public disapproval, and yet the evidence is wanting that will show where he has ever taken steps to punish those who become law violators. When some of his gang attempted to perpetrate crime after crime in this and adjoining counties during the past two years, he was silent, and what influence thus far used by him, if any at all, seems to have been exerted in behalf of the accused. Even some of his chosen leaders who were arrested upon serious charges have been released upon giving money bail, furnished no doubt through his influence and with his approval, and this in the face of the fact that almost positive evidence stood against them. Thus he goes from place to place apparently pleading for law and order to reign supreme, when at the same time thousands of his organization are ready to apply the torch or pull the trigger, knowing full well from the past history of the organization, that the capital they command will be used in their defense. When the poor fellow of a few days ago was brutally murdered up in Pennsylvania because he dared to work, did Mitchell or his followers offer a reward or raise a finger toward bringing the guilty to justice? Therefore, with this unsavory record against the order, is it any wonder that law abiding citizens in the anthracite coal regions almost daily fear an outbreak?

Superintendent Finley of the Central City Coal Company made a business trip here last week. He is one of the few men who seem to be able to hold the U. M. W. down to reason and it is feared he will eventually lose control. The last one of the suspected murderers of Officer Coffey have been run down, so it is thought, and no doubt but what the Empire Coal Company feel proud of the grand work done by the officers in the capture of the suspects. Mr. Dick Ashby, one of the old stand-bys of the coke works, has been on the sick list for several weeks past, but at this writing he is able to be up and hopes to soon resume work.

Robert Fegan, who for many years belonged to the mechanical department of the St. Bernard Company, is back from a sojourn in the West for several months past. Mr. John Nolan, of the St. Bernard Company at Barnsley, has found it necessary on account of his failing health to leave for Indiana for a few weeks rest. While at Nortonville last week one day we visited the new coal shaft and found all happy over the striking of a seven foot vein of coal which they claim is No. 11 coal and of excellent quality. We learn the stockholders will this week hold a meeting to determine whether or not they will continue to sink a shaft until they reach number 9 vein which it is estimated lies about 70 feet deeper. The vein struck lays about 10 feet below the surface of the ground, level with that of the depot now stands on, and it is believed by some that it can be struck at that depth by digging on the bottom land, so we understand steps will soon be taken at another location to find this same vein.

Of course it is trying upon the consumers in the east to pay over sixty cents per bushel for coal, about the same price they would pay for a bushel of wheat, yet they through their sympathizers, the strikers, receive comfort and the price continues to advance until bituminous coal now sells at about 20 cents per bushel. When consumers become blind to their own interests as well as the best interests of all, they deserve to pay high prices for coal and other comforts of life, depending in a measure upon the coal supply.

Chief Clerk W. G. Wright of the Crabtree Coal Company, has about recovered from his late severe illness and has returned to his books again. He hopes to soon be able to move his family to Isley, which the building of a house now delays.

Foreman Tombs and crew did some good substantial work at the Victoria Mines last week in the erection of hoist timbers over the shaft. Although last week was lost so far as the running of the mine was concerned, this week the production of coal will be rushed.

Deserted by the leaders the U. M. W. in this county seem to be in a lamentable condition, indeed. Not a sufficient number can be gathered together, we are informed, to hold a local meeting, and the result is they are blue, indeed, and language not generally used by Christians can now be heard on all corners.

The following clipping will in part corroborate the statement made by The Bee last week wherein it was stated that a large number of miners from Illinois, Indiana and Kentucky were ordered east. In the clipping they are referred to as hard coal miners, evidently for the purpose of deceiving the public:

That the attempts of the anthracite miners to prolong the strike, begun thirteen weeks ago are of the most determined character, is now being demonstrated by the men in this vicinity. Beginning with last week there has been a great influx of hard coal strikers in this city, until today the number is estimated to be 200. The men are of the English speaking element who worked in various capacities at the mines about Pittston, Shenandoah, Pottsville, Wilkesbarre and Scranton. Nearly all are single. Ready employment is found by the men, and between Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, inclusive, thousands of men have secured temporary positions. One of the men here today asserted that if they fail to win their fight they would not return to the anthracite regions, but would continue in their present employment. The men, however, believe before another month they will be back to the mines with all the concessions granted. In Altoona the strikers have been received with much consideration and many are at work in the Pennsylvania railroad shops, the new classification yards and other industries.

James Longstaff, who recently returned from the far west, has been employed in sinking a new shaft at Nortonville.

A thrifty citizen of Bellville, Ill., who works by the day and is the owner of a nice little home, thought it would improve the appearance of his property—and, incidentally, improve the looks of the town—to have his fence painted. He had the time to do the work himself, bought the paint and forthwith began to paint his fence, when, lo! the walking delegate, the creature selected by citizens of Bellville to manage their affairs, appeared and ordered this American citizen to quit painting his own fence, threatening to boycott him and prevent him from getting work or buying provisions in the city in which he lived and owned a home—and this free (?) American citizen obeyed the command and thereby acknowledged himself unfit to tie the shoes of a WALKING DELEGATE OF BELLVILLE. Another citizen was engaged in putting on a new roof of paper or felt. He found a couple of pieces of sheeting needed to be taken off and replaced by others. He started to do this work, when the walking delegate stopped him and commanded that a carpenter be hired to do this ten minutes' job, saying that the citizen could drive nails through the paper or felt, but could not drive nails through plank. Another citizen of Bellville wants to build him a brick house for a home. A friend makes brick outside the limits of the town and employs only non-union labor. He offers the citizen, because of friendship, the brick for his home at a nominal price—far cheaper than he can get them elsewhere—but he cannot accept them, for no non-union brick are allowed in this model city, and no mechanic would be allowed to build a house with non-union material. The only things that seem to be free in Bellville are sunshine, air and water. So far the walking delegate has not been able to corral these essentials, not that he has use for water—he always takes "his'n" in a saloon.

President Tate, of sub-district No. 1, has not yet a CHARTER. Possibly this is the reason why many of his subjects sadly move away from the sub-district and will be compelled to work—actually work—in strange lands. Perhaps they don't want to uphold Tate in his usurpation of unlawful power. How interesting it is to onlookers to see how sleek Barnaby, Wood & Co. unloaded on these miserable, hungry and deceived "strikers" the burden of the defeat of the U. M. W. in Hopkins county. For two years the victims have swallowed entire the stories of these officials, black and white, the story of one day proved a lie the next. The promised supplies, always cut in half—or entirely cut off—and when the end came and the great order of U. M. W. refused any more aid, in place of room they gave OFFICIAL TITLES—called it sub-district No. 1 and made the members president, secretary, treasurer, board members, organizers, etc., and Tate and Ivey and Buckner rushed about bustling with importance—and asserting that the strike would be won in a day or two. Buckner, ex-president of local and treasurer of sub-district—did he tell the brothers how he joined the order that he could give it away? Did he tell them how he had written letters, giving the names of the new members, that they might be discharged from the mines? The letters are in evidence when wanted. Let the brothers ask him about it.

Father F. H. O'Reilly of the Church of the Annunciation at Shenandoah, Pa., who has spent many years among the miners and is familiar with their conditions and is interested in their welfare, urged such parishioners as are members of the union, in his last Sunday's sermon, to avoid the humility of utter defeat at some not distant date by going back to their work now. "It is a law of God and man," said Father O'Reilly, "that every human being has a right to earn enough food to feed himself and family. If his children cry for bread he has the right to get that bread honestly, and no man living has a right to tell him he shall not. The man who interferes is a lawbreaker and an enemy to public good. I know there are men in my congregation that want to go to work; they didn't want to quit work; but they would go back tomorrow if they did not fear for their lives. I say this is wrong. You should have the manhood to go back to work and defy this organization known as the United Mine Workers. It is a blood-stained organization, and will be blood-stained until it ceases to exist. It was formed to promote crime and protect criminals. Every one was happy and contented here until Mitchell and Fahy came and organized unions. These men are not workingmen; they are not respectable, and I wouldn't give 2 cents for the opinion of either of them. They draw big salaries and live on the best in the country. Did anyone ever hear of President Mitchell or Fahy doing a day's work? No, but they live by preying on the paltry earnings of you, poor deluded men, while your unfortunate families are starving." He urged them not to sign petitions for the withdrawal of the troops as if they are taken away no one could estimate the lives that would be sacrificed. He further said: "I tell you men that you are paying over money that will come back to you stained with the blood of your fellowmen. You are engaged in a vicious, lawless, undertaking, and the woe of years will come down upon you for the crimes committed in the name and aid of your organization. I tell you there is a law among you. You will be betrayed, and your families will suffer for the acts of the men who are bent upon violence to our people." Father O'Reilly, standing in the same pulpit 32 years ago told the "Mollie Maguires" in his congregation: "There's a wolf among you; he will betray you, and your families will suffer for the acts of the men who are bent upon violence to our people." Kerrigan, a leader of the "Mollies," betrayed his fellows, and 15 of them were hanged. "I have seen many strikes, my children, and I say to you, even if won, the cost is too great. You men who spend time in loafing around the saloons during a strike, know only half the story. I, who go into the homes of the strikers, see the other side. It's the women and children who go hungry, who live in terror of riot and bloodshed, who suffer most. You should consider them."

A woman's editorial association had a dinner in Topeka, Kan., recently and one of the toasts was: "Woman: Without Her, Man Is a Brute." It must have been a cynical printer man who set up the type, for this is the way the toast read in print: "Woman, Without Her, Man, is a Brute." Just how much of a rumpus this raised may possibly be imagined; it certainly cannot be described.

FOREIGNERS' STRIKE.

"Shenandoah is a Veritable Hell Hole," Says Major Hilar, Inspector of Pennsylvania Troops.

Wilkesbarre, Pa.—Major W. S. Hilar, Inspector of the Third Brigade, who returned from Shenandoah last night, gives this explanation of the situation there:

"A more God-forsaken country I have never seen. Eighty-five percent of the population are foreigners and 8,000 to 10,000 are anarchists.

"The Lithuanians fear not man nor God. They have no regard for law nor order, nor anything. They run everything their own way, and the priests say that nobody has control over them. The disturbing elements are at all times ready for trouble, and court it.

"English speaking miners are all right and have done a great deal to help the troops there.

Mitchell nor any other individual can control those foreigners. Nothing short of shot and shell can keep them subdued. They lie in the laurel bushes, which grow in great profusion there, to stone the troops.

"At first the soldiers were instructed to load with blank cartridges, but they have been supplied with cartridges now and are under instructions to shoot to kill. General Gobin is determined that quiet shall prevail and the attacking of our soldiers with stones will not be tolerated for a moment.

"Shenandoah is a veritable hell hole. Ninety thousand barrels of beer are sold there annually to the miners. They dump a barrel into a washtub—whether it is clean or not makes not the slightest difference, and then they pour in a couple of quarts of vile whiskey. The mixture is stirred up with a broom handle and is then ready to drink. Old tin cups, broken glasses—anything—are used in conveying the stuff to the drinkers, who consume it until they reach an advanced state of intoxication and are ready for murder and rapine."

Anti-Suffragists in Politics.

One of the most amusing and encouraging manifestations of the progressive enlightenment of women is the so-called "anti"-suffrage movement. A few estimable women are alarmed at the demand that women shall be recognized as responsible citizens, and in order to prevent it, they form what may properly be called a political organization. They elect officers, employ lecturers, hold meetings, attend public hearings, circulate tracts—resort, in short, to every imaginable political method to persuade men not to allow their sister women or themselves to express their opinions at the polls. But in doing so they abandon their own ground, and enter politics. Surely addressing public meetings and issuing printed manifestos involve more publicity than merely dropping a piece of paper in a box once or twice a year. It would puzzle the "Society Opposed to the Further Extension of Suffrage to Women" to explain why they condemn voting for Governor or President, while some of them vote and urge other women to vote for an improved school committee, and even serve on school boards or as overseers of the poor.

While working on the Cumberland river bridge, near Grand Rivers, William Mitchell fell into the river a distance of 50 feet, sustaining probably fatal injuries.

A Jolly Crowd of Thirteen.

Last Thursday morning the unlucky number of thirteen left Earlington at sunrise for Dawson Springs consisting of blondes, of brunettes, gray haired and bald-headed people.

Bro. Mitchell, Grandma Kramer, chaperones; Mr. and Mrs. Teyman, Mrs. Sallie Stevens, Mrs. Kate Withers, Mrs. Minnie Long, Miss Bertha Powell from Ohio, Miss Tillie Schriebe, Miss Elizabeth Long; Masters Paul Teyman and Eddie Long; also Mr. Charley Barrett, our true and faithful driver. Arriving in Dawson at 8:30 o'clock and indulged in drinking the sparkling Chalybeate water right from the well was delightful and refreshing. After spending an hour in the city we drove out to Dawson Bluffs where a nice time was spent in climbing the mossy bluff after ferns and evergreens and indulging in games of various kinds, such as ball and bare-kick riding, etc. As all wished to remember this pleasant outing most distinctly, it was agreed upon to sit for a picture to the accommodating photographer with the two burros which the late lassie and laddie installed on being portrayed. At 11 o'clock a camp fire was built to cook dinner, and such a dinner was never served at the Bluffs. So when the afternoon was spent in a jolly old way out to Dawson feeling like that was a place to enjoy a day of pleasure.

The district meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society will meet here Saturday, Sunday and Monday, including the 5th Sunday of this month, at the M. E. church, south. The district Secretary, Miss Olivia Orr, will conduct it, and there will be an interesting session. Rev. Harrison will deliver a sermon and others of the brethren will assist the ladies in making the session pleasant and profitable. There will be visiting delegates from all over the district. The public is cordially invited to attend all the session. Eight of the ladies of the M. E. church, South, assisted by Roy Browning and Mr. Priest treated the church to a regular spring cleaning and recarpeting this week. The work was well done and the church is ready for a good congregation next Sunday night, it being the regular preaching time. When we get the electric light, which we expect soon, there will be no nearer place of worship in the town. There are but two more regular appointments for Bro. Currie before the conference year ends. Let all the members turn out to these; they may be his last for this charge, as the bishop will have a say in the matter. The Epworth League met last Sunday night, with a very good attendance and good program. Bro. Currie filled his appointments at Providence Sunday. He will be at home now most of the time until conference.

The Philippines are certainly becoming Americanized. The newspapers over there are already being binged used for libel.

CAPT. HOBSON is in great demand at Chataquas. It pays to be a hero, and a hero that is as intelligent as he is is also interesting.

The people of Buffalo were getting more than they paid for, so the health officers have ordered the bakers to keep fly screens on their windows.

ALL eyes and ears are anxiously waiting for the next session of Congress to see and hear what Mr. Littlefield will do and say about the trusts. We trust he will be equal to the task set him.

EMPEROR MENELIK, of Abyssinia, who will be an attraction at the St. Louis World's Fair, has lots of lineage back of him, as he is said to have descended in a direct line from Solomon, King of Judea.

The attempt of Swift & Co. to secure control of the beef business of Boston, with all the control implies, may simply draw from the residents of the center of culture the spiteful ejaculation, "Oh, beans."

TRACY attended church the Sunday before he died and is said to have been greatly impressed with the pastor's sermon from the text: "The wicked flee when no man pursueth." The pastor deniers emphatically that he knew Tracy was going to be present.

THE REV. MR. JEFFRIES, father of the ring champion, pauses long enough in the pastime of jubilation over his son's victory to declare that he would have been glad to be present at the fight and pray for those who were there.

EDISON, the electric wizard, has no use for air ships, but he says that within 30 years nearly all railways will discard locomotives and adopt electric motors, and that the electric automobile will displace the horse almost entirely. Probably people will get through searing at the auto by that time.

BALDWIN, the North pole seeker, states that the only trouble on his ship was the failure to reach the pole. He further states that the pole will yet be brought into camp, for he is going after it again. We would like to see him WIN, but we are afraid he will be BALD before he can make a more encouraging report.

BEWARE how you speak of a woman's character. Think how many years she has been building it, of the wounds she has received, of the toils and privations endured. The purity of woman is the salvation of the race, and hope of future greatness, and the redemption of man. Wipe out her purity and man sinks beneath the wave of despair, with not a star to guide his life into a channel of safety. Think, then, before you speak and remember that any hog can root up the fairest flower that ever grew, so the vilest can ruin the purest character.

TRACY was the most popular man in the state of Washington and if he had not taken his life, the people might have sent him to Congress or run him for Governor.

A MISSOURI editor, who no doubt has had some experience, says, in referring to a picnic: "Many of the men went to enjoy themselves; others were accompanied by their wives."

HOPKINS welcomed President Jere Baxter, of the Tennessee Central, with open arms and agreed to give the right of way, terminal ground, and erect a suitable depot. Hopkinsville has long been noted for her antagonism against the L. & N. and would gladly do anything in her power to lessen the freight and passenger receipts of this road.

WHEN a strike reaches the disorder and assassin stage it is lost. The rioting and murder of defenseless men and women and the brutal treatment of children in the Shenandoah and other districts of Pennsylvania is, to say the least of it, ominous. Many millions of dollars have been wasted in the anthracite miners' strike, and the loss on the part of the employees is final. The hardships and suffering of the women and children and the crimes committed by the ignorant dupes at the command of their leaders could not be paid for in this generation if every demand made on the operators were granted. The participants in strikes are becoming more and more averse to moral suasion to gain their ends and more and more in favor of an armed force and violence, as was witnessed in the mining districts of Pennsylvania last week.

THE GIRL WE ADMIRE.

She Has a Sunny Disposition and the Gift of Smiling Away the Troubles of Life.

The most lovable girls in the world are those with a sunny disposition. A few people like the quiet, thoughtful girl; others like the girl who is perpetually vivacious and bubbling over with spirits. But everyone likes the girl with the cheerful, sunny disposition. Girls of this disposition are never extravagantly boastful or dimly quiet; they have a pleasant smile for everyone. They never seem troubled or worried, their voice is low and musical, and their smile—be they pretty or not—is always sweet.

The only trouble that the sunny tempered girl has is the outcome of her popularity. Every one wants to talk to her, and with her. Young men are attracted to her without effort on her part, for her character shows itself so plainly in her actions that young men are so delighted at the cheerfulness and sympathy of her nature that they are drawn to her at once.

For every reason, then, the girl with the sunny disposition, who smiles away the troubles of life, is a favorite. And, what is more, old people are just as charmed by her as are those of about her own age. We are glad to know there are a few of this class of girls in Earlington.

WANTED—Every one who is a friend to the Bee to send in one new subscriber and one dollar for a year's subscription. From Hot to Cold.

Dysentery is prevalent everywhere in summer and is due to miasmatic poisons, and begins abruptly with inflammation of the bowels and leads to the large bowel. In America the disease is common, but properly treated does not result as serious as in the tropics. Perry Davis' Pain-killer is the best known remedy and the most efficacious in the treatment of dysentery.

SAVING THE BUFFALO

HOW THE FEW REMAINING BISON ARE BEING PRESERVED.

"Buffalo Bill" and "Buffalo" Jones Engaged in Raising "Catalo," a Mixture of Bison and Cattles, Characteristics of the New Aesop.

Thirty-five years ago William Frederick Cody was engaged in killing all the buffalo, or bison, that came within range of his "trusty rifle." His success in that occupation, entered into the purpose of supplying buffalo meat for the laborers working on the Union Pacific railroad, was so distinguished that he won the sobriquet of "Buffalo Bill," by which title the veteran scout, showman, soldier and ranchman is best known.

Today Colonel Cody is not engaged in killing buffalo, for none is left to be slain. He is, on the contrary, occupied in an earnest effort to preserve the few remaining bison and to transmit their characteristics to the buffalo and cattle hybrid known as the "catalo."

The story of the vast herds of buffalo that once ranged over the western prairies and of their destruction is well known. Of the millions of the animals that once existed only a few straggling herds, kept as zoological specimens, now survive. It has been found, however, that the characteristics of the bison—their hardiness, strength, size and general adaptability to the requirements of life on the western prairies—can be successfully transmitted to the offspring of the buffalo and the various breeds of domestic cattle. Two men are principally engaged in breeding "catalos," Charles J. "Buffalo" Jones and Colonel Cody.

Largely through the efforts of these two men the recent session of congress passed a law creating a government buffalo ranch in the Yellowstone National park. Mr. Jones has been appointed warden of the ranch by the president, and he is actively engaged in stocking it with the buffalo and its descendants. The idea of forming a herd of "catalos" has long been the dominant one in the mind of Mr. Jones, and he has for a number of years been engaged in demonstrating its feasibility.

COL. WILLIAM F. CODY—"BUFFALO BILL," together with Charles Goodnight, on the well known Goodnight ranch in Texas. The effort was responded to by Colonel Cody on his own great estate, near Cody, Wyo. Although the experiment has not been carried far enough to demonstrate its entire practicability, enough has been done to prove that the bison in the form of "catalo"—part buffalo and part cattle—is not the pure buffalo, may have a new term of existence. On the Goodnight ranch are more than 100 head of "catalos."

It has been found possible in a number of cases on the Cody and Goodnight ranches and in the other places where small but flourishing herds of "catalos" exist to breed the animals in and in, so that the offspring are three-fourths or more buffalo and the remainder cattle. The hybrids, of whatever degree, retain the desirable characteristics of their wild ancestors, while they possess the improved quality of meat and softer hair that render the animal better for human use than the bison.

Experiments in hybridization of animals have hitherto been for the most part baffled by the inability of the resulting cross to perpetuate its species. This difficulty does not exist in the case of the "catalo." One of them has been known to raise eight calves in the past seven years. The "catalos" are three-quarters buffalo blood and are best for furnishing the famous and desirable buffalo robes, the price of which has mounted steadily since the extinction of the original herds. For beef the quarter bloods are the most promising, since they unite with the greater size of the buffalo the finer grain and sweeter taste of beef. Outside of the "hump" and a few other portions buffalo meat is of coarse grain and strong flavor.

A "catalo" weighs on an average about 300 pounds more than the native steer. In its "hump" the most of which is equal to that of the finest beef, it carries about 100 pounds. Unless the cattle strain predominates the hind quarters of the animal are apt to be lighter than those of cattle. Like its wild ancestor, the "catalo" can live and thrive on pastures that are unfit for support of cattle, since the buffalo has the faculty of feeding without destroying the quality of the ground. "Catalos" are healthy animals and avoid poisonous weeds by instinct.

A YOUNG LADY'S LIFE SAVED

At Panama, Colombia, by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Dr. Chas. H. Uter, a prominent physician, of Panama, Colombia, in a recent letter states: "Last March I had as a patient a young lady 16 years of age, who had a very bad attack of dysentery. Everything I prescribed for her proved ineffectual and she was growing weaker every hour. Her parents were in despair. She had become so weak that she could not turn over in bed. What to do at this critical moment was a study for me, but I thought of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and as a last resort prescribed it. The most wonderful result was obtained. Within eight hours she was much better; inside of three days she was upon her feet, and at the end of one week was entirely well." For sale by St. Bernard Drug Store, Earlinton; B. F. Robinson, Mortons Gap; George King, St. Charles.

Union Miners Are Left in the Lurch.

The Madisonville correspondent of the Hopkinsville Independent says: "A great deal of dissatisfaction is now being expressed in this county at present by union coal miners who have in the past joined the union and have now been deserted by their leader, President C. C. Barnaby, of District No. 23. It has been reported that he has sold out to the operators and left the matter with them. There are now many miners out of employment, on account of their joining the organization, and the mines are running with non-union men and the work of organization has been dropped. From the best that can be learned it is understood between Barnaby and his followers that he was to leave and remain until the Eastern coal strike had been settled, when he would return and renew the work."

Wanted.

We would like to see your paper, if through the columns of your paper, if there is any person who has used Green's August Flower for the cure of indigestion, Dyspepsia, and Live Troubles that has not been cured—and we also want your results, such as sour stomach, fermentation of food, habitual costiveness, nervous dyspepsia, indigestion, nervous feelings, sleeplessness—in fact, any trouble connected with the stomach or liver? Political Superiors of Women.

The immigration statistics say that during the past year, of the adults who landed in New York, 62 per cent. of the Syrians, 50 per cent. of the Italians, 31 per cent. of the Poles and 21 per cent. of the Greeks could neither read nor write. It is inspiring for American women to contemplate that in five years, or less, the vast majority of these, being males, will be casting their ballots for every official and every public question that go before the electorate, while educated, tax-paying, native-born women are absolutely barred from voice or vote. But then, of course, it insures us a much wiser and better government to have the steerage vote.

FIRST LADY OF FRANCE.

President Loubet's Wife a Simple, Home-Loving Person.

Like her distinguished husband, Mme. Emile Loubet, wife of the president of the French republic, is a plain person whom success in the world has not turned from the even tenor of her ways or mode of thinking. Through all the great changes that have come into her life from the time of her marriage to the provincial lawyer to her elevation to the position of First Lady of France.

THE WIFE OF THE PRESIDENT.

Mme. Loubet is the daughter of an iron dealer of the town of Montclair, in the south of France. Her maiden name was Marie Denis. Mme. and M. Loubet were married thirty-five years ago and have three children, two sons and a daughter.

The wife of the president was brought up in a simple manner and numbers cooking among her household accomplishments. It is said that even now at the Elysee she frequently visits the kitchen and prepares for her husband and his old friends dishes of which they are especially fond.

In appearance Mme. Loubet is like her husband, short and stout. She is gray-haired, but carries her age, about 55, very well. Mme. Loubet dresses simply, invariably in good taste, but she is little inclined to adopt the latest Parisian modes. She is content to a degree and is very charitable, taking a personal interest in the many poor institutions of Paris.

Although it was freely predicted that the motherly lady from the provinces would be overwhelmed by the grandeur of the Elysee, she has yet given no indication of embarrassment. Only at the state dinners she insists on seeing that her guests have sufficient to eat and displays considerable tact from the standpoint of "high society"—lest they should rise unsatisfied.

Mme. Loubet does not concern herself with politics and has resolutely refused to exert her influence with the president for or against any faction.

Caution!

This is not a gentle word—but when you think of the trouble you are not to purchase for 75c the only remedy universally known and a remedy that has been the largest sale of any medicine in the world since 1858 for the cure and treatment of Consumption and Throat and Lung troubles without losing its great popularity all these years. You will be thankful we called your attention to Boschee's German Syrup. There are so many ordinary cough remedies made by druggists and others that are cheap and good for light colds perhaps, but for severe Coughs, Bronchitis, Croup—and especially for Consumption, where there is difficult expectoration and coughing during the nights and mornings, there is nothing like Boschee's German Syrup in the civilized world.

Gentlemen:—I received your letter of May 17th to day and am only too glad to send you the names of 35 mothers who have children that will soon reach their second summer and teething age.

I will say, no one can say more for Owens Pink Mixture than myself. I have 3 children, aged years, 3 years, and 1 year old. I have used Owens Pink Mixture in every case of teething and always with the best results. Ever since the late Chas. W. Wilcox, who was a member of your firm at Owensboro, Ky., sold me the first order in 1896, I have used it and always kept it in stock. Where once introduced it remains a family medicine. I am in hopes the Floyd Medicine Co. will be able to take every drug store in America and every foreign land; not only that, but in every home, for it is a boon to our dear little ones and their faithful mothers.

Now, if you please, send me some more advertising matter. I will use it to my mutual good.

Very respectfully,

The Rev. Stewart brothers are here and will conduct a meeting a few days at the colored reading room. Every person is invited.

Rev. R. Stewart preached at the Zion church Sunday night.

Don't forget the 10 day open air meeting at the park near town on the lakeside, which will begin Sunday, August 24. Rev. Miss Taylor will arrive Saturday to take charge of affairs. Everybody, both white and colored, invited. No charges at the gate. We only ask you to give as you feel that you have been benefited.

Mrs. Willie Earl took suddenly ill Sunday afternoon, but is better.

Simon Dunlap is on the sick list.

Think of the 50 voices at this great open air meeting. Miss Rachel Turner, of St. Louis, Mo., the guest of Miss Lizzie Auburn, will be one among the 50.

Dear brother and kind sister, remember that conference is just across the big road and we must meet it, and you haven't settled up your church dues. General fund hasn't been paid. Please be kind enough to pay it and let your pastor's character pass. Don't wait until he gets on the train. He cannot get off to collect it and the train won't wait long enough for you to come up and hand it to him.

There will be an entertainment at the Masonic hall on August 30. Refreshments for the purpose of the young ladies of Earlington. Come, come all. Refreshments of all kinds. No swearing allowed. No smoking allowed with the ladies in the time the entertainment is going on. Admission 10 cents and 5 cents. GEORGE MILLER, Managers.

THE CHAUFFEUR'S STORY.

The Tire of One of the Rear Wheels of the Fair's Automobile Was Deflated.

MR. FAIR APPARENTLY TRIED TO STOP.

But He must Have Made the Wrong Steering Movement, and the Automobile Headed Directly for a Tree—Does Not Know Which Died First.

Paris, Aug. 17.—The chauffeur of the automobile in which Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Fair were killed, whose name is Brozey, returned to Paris Saturday morning. In an interview with a press correspondent he threw some further light on the cause of the accident, saying: "When we left Louisville Mr. Fair was suffering from bronchial catarrh. He coughed frequently on the road, and during the fits of coughing his face was much congested, evidently producing slight dizziness. He had just been coughing when I noticed that the tire of one of the hind wheels was deflated. I realized the danger, and jumping to my feet and leaning forward, I shouted in Mr. Fair's ears in English: 'Stop, quick; tire no good.' Mr. Fair glanced back, but he did not reply. Apparently he tried to stop, but in doing so he must have made the wrong steering movement, as the machine swerved across his clasp and turned her face back towards me with a look which said plainly, 'We are lost.' The next moment came the crash, and I was thrown into a field beside the road and stunned. When I recovered, which I did quickly, I limped to the side of my master and mistress, and with the help of the chauffeur's story, the bodies from the wreck."

Asked if either then showed signs of life, Brozey replied: "I seemed to be dead, but I was in such a dazed condition from shock, and so affected by the ghastly spectacle presented by the wounds on the heads of my victims, that I did not notice whether either moved or not. The chauffeur's wife said afterwards that Mr. Fair moved his foot, and that his wife moved her hand as they lay on the ground, but I did not see the movement. The woman did not say whether the man or his wife stirred last."

GRAND ARMY PROGRAMME.

Exercises For the General Encampment, at Washington, Outlined at a Conference.

Washington, Aug. 17.—At a conference, Friday, at encampment headquarters, presided over by Gen. Torrance, commander-in-chief of the A. R., the following programme of exercises for the 1902 encampment was adopted:

Sunday, October 5.—Patriotic services in various local churches.

Monday, October 6.—Campfire in Convention hall at 7:30 o'clock in the evening, at which the members of the veteran associations will be addressed by speakers of national reputation. S. C. Paines, chairman of the local committee on campfires, will preside.

Tuesday, October 7.—Naval day; parade of special veterans' associations, detachments of regular troops, district militia and various civilian organizations to be particularly invited, excursion to the Marine Corps, and delegates to the encampment; public evening meeting of welcome at Convention hall at which Chairman Warner of the local citizens' committee will extend the freedom of the city to Gen. Torrance and his associates.

Wednesday, October 8.—Grand review of G. A. R., by the commander-in-chief and the president of the United States, with an elaborate reception in the evening at Convention hall.

Thursday, October 9, and Friday, October 10.—Sessions of national encampment.

Meetings of auxiliary conventions and corps and regimental reunions may be scheduled for any time during the encampment.

ADAMS EXPRESS ROBBERY.

Officials from St. Louis Have Gone to Investigate—Lummen Found.

Wires Cut Under a Table.

Owensboro, Ky., Aug. 15.—Several officials of the Adams Express Co. who arrived Sunday from St. Louis have gone to Louisville to investigate the robbery reported from there Saturday. Nothing has developed to indicate the whereabouts of the $28,000 stolen by the robbers, who were shipped from Deaneville, and which it is alleged was taken from the agent at Louisville after its arrival there. A lineman of the Postal Telegraph Co. sent out to locate an interruption on the circuit, reports that he found the wires cut under the table in the office at Deaneville.

Whipping for Youthful Burglars. West Superior, Wis., Aug. 16.—"Twenty-one lashes across the back" is the sentence that has been imposed by Judge Bailey in the county court upon Robert and John Scott, twin boys, 13 years of age, that were before him on charge of burglary.

Shenandoah, Pa., Aug. 15.—This week, after a night of excitement, it again as quiet as it has been for the past two weeks.

THE WIND AND WEATHER.

High Temperature in Arkansas—Severe Storms at Louisville, Ky., and in North Carolina.

Little Rock, Ark., Aug. 16.—The highest temperatures of the season were recorded throughout Arkansas Friday. Near Van Buren five laborers on the Iron Mountain railroad were overcome by heat and three are dead. At Alma there was one death from the heat. But one prostration is reported here. The maximum temperature for the day was 94 degrees.

Severe Storm at Louisville, Ky., Louisville, Ky., Aug. 16.—A severe storm prevailed here Friday afternoon. The wind blew at the rate of 38 miles an hour, nearly an inch of rain fell in a quarter of an hour, while the temperature dropped 29 degrees in 15 minutes. A number of telephones were burned out by lightning and shade trees were blown down in all parts of the city. Street cars were stopped at several places, for more than an hour. Several residences in the suburbs had windows blown in and damage done furnishings.

North Carolina Has a Storm.

Charlotte, N. C., Aug. 15.—There have been a series of severe electrical, wind, hail and rain storms in this section of the state for three nights past. At Statesville a hotel was struck by lightning and destroyed. At Concord, St. Andrew's Lutheran church was blown down and its timber scattered. The roof of cotton mills were damaged to the extent of $8,000; the Lipard mill was unroofed and the Cannon Manufacturing Co. building was blown down. The property damage in the town is estimated at $25,000.

Frank Morris, colored, was drowned in a swollen stream.

ROBBED IN A BARBER'S CHAIR.

A Porter and a Barber on a Railroad Train Arrested Near Omaha for Stealing from Passengers.

Omaha, Neb., Aug. 16.—Lewis Selden, of Chicago, a porter, and Wayne Shoup, barber on the Union Pacific-Norfolk and Western limited train, were arrested a few miles east of this city, for stealing from passengers. The detective found the two men hanging on a hook such an amount as they believed would not be missed and returning it to the pocket. The detective had a pocketbook full of marked money, and after leaving the barber shop part of it was gone. The arrests followed, and the missing money was found in the men's possession.

An Old Western Guide Profits By a Lesson From President Roosevelt in Killing Grizzlies.

Rifle, Col., Aug. 19.—W. E. Tribble is the hero of a desperate hand-to-hand encounter with two bears, and that he escaped with his life was due in part to the visit of President Roosevelt to that part of the country two years ago. Mr. Roosevelt showed the old guide just how to give the coup de grace to a bear with his knife. Tribble, who lives on a grizzly, and succeeded in dispatching him in a like manner. When covered with wounds, but managed to crawl to his horse and ride home, where he lost consciousness.

BY EXPLOSION OF GASOLINE.

Peoria, Ill., Aug. 19.—Four persons were badly hurt, Sunday night, by an explosion of gasoline during a pyrotechnical display at the Old Salem Chautauque. Those hurt were: Col. W. F. Merriam, of Williamsfield, Ill.; a thumb and two fingers on one of his hands blown off.

Harry Levering, director of the Chautauque, was struck with a flying missile and three fingers were torn from his right hand.

Fears are entertained for the life of the mother of Auburn, a victim of the explosion. He inhaled flame and smoke and his life is in jeopardy.

Definitely deformed, of Auburn, who was badly burned, may recover.

AN OVER STRENUOUS LIFE.

President Charles M. Schwab of the United States Steel Corporation to Retire.

HE WILL SEEK ABSOLUTE QUIETUDE.

He is Not Ill So as to Be Compelled to Resign, but He Considers It Best That He Should Retire to His Home in the Country.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 19.—A Lovett (Pa.) special to the Pittsburg Dispatch says:

President Chas. M. Schwab, of the United States Steel corporation, has accepted the advice of his physicians and decided to retire indefinitely from active business life. He will leave America to seek some quiet nook in a foreign clime where not an echo of the strenuous life he has led can reach him. This information is authentic. Dr. Golden never leaves the Schwab home, and the exact nature of his patient's illness can not be learned through him.

Mr. Schwab is not confined to his bed, but spends much of his time on the wide veranda which affords fresh air and a sweeping view of the mountain slope. He is always with his wife or his parents.

The strange part of Mr. Schwab's illness is that he is always within reach of his family, but he will not allow any person to approach him. Heretofore the visitors to the Schwab home were greeted with a hearty welcome and a vigorous handshake. Now he declines to see them. He has not seen his wife for some time. He is not a recluse, but he is a man who has been able to control his own life.

"The people of this town, who still call him 'Charlie' because of his early and intimate acquaintance with them, are discussing his prospective departure. They know he is a sick man and are relieved that he will spend possibly a year in an effort to refrain his health."

"The presence of Sisters, belonging to the Order of Mercy, in his home day and night since Thursday was another indication of illness. The nuns were not visitors, but it is generally known that they are nursing men who have so many weary times befriended them and their institutions."

"The knowledge of the people of Lovett is that Mr. Schwab is going away somewhere. His destination will be kept a secret and he will do nothing but seek health until his return. He is in a very poor physical condition and his mind fully relieved of the great strain resulting from so many business cares."

"It is a fact, however, that his health was very bad and that he intended to devote a year's time to recuperating, that I passed the mountain and reached the palatial home on the mountain top."

"Mrs. Schwab said that her husband would not let any person see him had not been receiving visitors for several days."

"Mr. Schwab sat on a couch within hearing of the telephone. A paper was before his eyes. He exhibited no interest and made no attempt to move. "Business associates" who have met with a similar reception during the past two days. Mr. Schwab has been directed by his doctors to rest and to follow their advice and he is obeying instructions.

"Inquiry among the people of the town who have known the Schwabs, has led to the conclusion that he intends to retire from business life. His friends, however, deny that if he leaves the United States Steel corporation it will be at the dictation of any person other than himself."

NO PYTHIAN SANITARIUM.

The Grand Lodge Defends a Proposition to Erect a Building at Hot Springs, Ark.

San Francisco, Aug. 19.—At the session of the grand lodge of the Knights of Pythias, Monday, the proposition to erect a sanitarium at Hot Springs, Ark., for sick and disabled knights was definitely defeated by a vote of 90 to 30, and the report of the special investigating committee adopted at the last session was completely disregarded. It was the voice of the supreme lodge that it has no right under the constitution to tax members of the order for such purposes. The committee, however, expressed themselves as individually favoring a sanitarium if it could be built without taxation.

THE DEATH OF COL. HEMPHILL.

The Founder of the Atlanta Constitution Succumbed to an Attack of Apoplexy.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 19.—Col. William Arnold Hemphill, founder and for many years business manager of the Atlanta Constitution, died, Sunday night, at his residence on Peachtree street, of apoplexy. He had been in somewhat feeble health for a number of months, but his condition was not regarded as serious, and his death was a great shock to the community.

He was born at Atlanta, Ga., in 1840.

ECHOES OF RECENT STORMS.

St. Louis Was the Center and It was General Over Missouri and Illinois.

St. Louis, Aug. 20.—St. Louis was in the center of the severe rain, wind and electrical storm, which was almost general over Missouri and Illinois, Monday. Considerable damage was done to property, a great many persons were stunned by lightning and three are reported killed outright.

One person was killed in St. Louis, one in Jerseyville, Ill., and one at New Franklin, Mo.

Telegraphic reports indicate that the farmers are the heaviest losers. While in some localities the late crops were benefited, yet in more instances corn was blown flat and orchards stripped of fruit.

Several houses and a great many barns were burned by being struck by lightning.

There is a cloud-rail over Missouri and Campaign counts, in Illinois, and the railroads suffered by washouts in their tracks.

At Marshall, Mo., it became so dark that lights were necessary, and the citizens, fearing a cyclone, took refuge in their cellars. It is reported that hailstones large as hen's eggs fell.

Information from Wichita, Kas., states that a cyclone struck Look Springs, a town near there, blowing down several residences, a flourishing mill and a church.

WRECK ON THE BIG FOUR.

Passenger Train on the Big Four Wrecked at Hammond, Ind., and Engineer and Fireman Hurt.

Peoria, Ill., Aug. 19.—Big Four passenger train No. 4, due in this city from Indianapolis, was wrecked at Hammond, Ind., Monday morning. The train was wrecked at Hammond, Ind., Monday morning. The train was wrecked at Hammond, Ind., Monday morning.

The injured are: Gordon, Henry, engineer, residence Indianapolis; bad scalp wound and jaw broken; not serious. Parish, W. H., fireman, residence Indianapolis; burned badly and in serious condition. A postal clerk in the mail car was thrown against an iron mail pouch rack and slightly hurt.

EXCURSION TRAIN IN A WRECK.

One Man Killed and Another Probably Fatally Injured in a Collision at Hammond, Ind.

Chicago, Aug. 19.—One man was killed outright and another was probably fatally injured in a railroad wreck at Hammond, Ind., early Sunday. A Chicago freight train standing on the tracks of the Chicago & Western Indiana railroad was crashed into by a special train of the Chicago, Indianapolis & Louisville railroad carrying 60 excursionists from Cincinnati.

George W. Harris, 21 years old, of Cave City, Ky., and employed by the Latrobe Steel Co., at Melrose, Ill., was instantly killed. His brother, Daniel E. Harris, 22 years, was seriously injured.

None of the passengers on the excursion train was seriously injured.

MANILA WILL WELCOME TAFT.

The Governor is Expected Home Tomorrow—Honor Will Be Done Made to Receive Him.

Manila, Aug. 18.—Gov. William H. Taft, who left here on the 28th of July, is expected to arrive in Manila tomorrow. He left Singapore Straits Settlement last Friday on board the United States gunboat Gen. Alava.

The governor's return will be given Gen. Alava up the bay. A series of arches are at present being erected along the route of the governor's march from the office of the captain of the port, where he will disembark from a launch, to Malacan Palace, where a reception will be given him. There will be a banquet the evening of the governor's arrival.

—J. G. HOLLAND.

A Grand Hero Called Home.

Rev. Samuel F. Pearson, the Prohibition sheriff of Cumberland county, Maine, died at midnight, August 5.

The remains lay in state in the city hall, promptly tendered by the mayor for the purpose, for 24 hours preceding the funeral service at the Gospel Temperance Mission, where he had labored so faithfully for more than a quarter of a century.

At the funeral the front of the platform was covered with floral offerings. The Gospel Mission Church and Sunday school presented a piece representing gables ajar. The mayor and city council gave a similar piece. The Portland Good Templars gave a cross and crown; the Veteran Firemen's Association, a pillow; the W. C. T. U., a wreath of sweet peas, and Company G, Massachusetts Volunteer Militia,
a pillow.

A most impressive tribute and one full of meaning in floral language, came from Mr. and Mrs.
Francis Bent. Mr. Bent is one of the many men whom Mr.
Pearson has rescued from a life of drunkenness. The piece consisted of a half reclining bar and crescent in white roses, surmounted by a star of yellow immortelles, typical of his insignia of office and the gold badge in the form of a star, presented by his friends on election day.

The services were very simple, consisting of brief but eloquent addresses by persons who had been closely identified with him in his work. At the close, after a short prayer, two stanzas of Mr. Pearson's favorite hymn,
"Jesus, Lover of My Soul," were sung by the congregation standing. For a dozen blocks on both sides of the street, the sidewalks were thronged with people who could not gain an entrance to the hall.

Expressions of sorrow were heard on every side. Those who opposed him politically were scarcely less fervent in their tributes to his memory than were his friends.

The poor of the city of Portland are deeply grieved over the loss of their friend and helper.
They know not where to turn to find one who will take his place with them.

The newspapers all over the state commented with feeling on his life and work. The Portland Evening Express gave six columns, written by a prominent newspaper man, who years ago was almost a stranded wreck through intemperance, but who was helped to his feet and made the successful man that he is, through Mr. Pearson's efforts. We quote
one paragraph from this writer:

"Great citizen, faithful minister of Him who walked by the Sea of Galilee, sheriff on whose lips the official oath did not die in the air, but was graven on the heart and soul and life and conscience; friend of the poor; long tried, tempted, true man; servant and soldier and knight of God, hail and farewell!"

John G. Woolley says: "This at least, Sheriff Pearson has done: He has branded the illogical old lie, 'Prohibition does not prohibit,' so deep that foreevermore it will be known and read of, all men to be a lie."

"He has redeemed a fallen profession. He has proved that a sheriff can be a man. He has shown that a man can be in politics and be a Christian."

Oliver W. Stewart says: "Samuel F. Pearson with high convictions of duty. He believed his office was sacred. His highest ambition was to keep his honor unsullied. Then ation owes him a debt of gratitude for the lesson
he has taught us."

Volney B. Cushing says: "For 18 months he has done more for the principle of Prohibition than any other man in the United States."

"Tobacco-smoking often causes an intermittent pulse. The irregularity of the heart's action, which tobacco causes, is one of its most conspicuous effects.

Candidates are annually rejected for cardiac disturbances, who have afterwards admitted the use of tobacco, while the annual physical examination of addicts reveals a large number of irritable hearts (tobacco hearts) among boys, who had no such trouble when they entered school."

"I had diabetes in its worst form,"
writes Marion Lee, of Dunreath, Ind. "I tried eight physicians without relief. Only three bottles of Vol-ey's Kidney Cure made me a well man." Sold by John X. Taylor.

Comment On the Ball Game.

The match game of ball played Tuesday between the St. Bernard Mining Company and the City of Earlington resulted in a slight victory for the St. Bernard, the score standing 17 to 16 in favor of the St.
Bernard. It was an interesting and amusing game and both sides did some good work. Ernest Rash, Elmer Orr and Jim Sparrow were hit in various places but not seriously injured. Charley McGary can pick up a hot liner better with his feet than his hands. Bassett made a good play when he caught that high flyer in left field.

Doe Renfrow seemed to be laboring under the erroneous impression that the pitcher was trying to hit him from the way he dodged.

Umpire Rogers did moderately well considering what he knew about the game, but made one or two rank decisions on both sides.

If Frank Arnold or Paul Price had hit the ball a fair lick some one would have had to pay for a broken window.

Every time Charley McGary struck at the ball he grunted like it hurt him.

There were several ladies present and they applauded both sides with equal impartiality—in fact they couldn't tell who was who.

John Herb was score keeper and made a good one.

G. C. Adkinson was coaching for both sides. He couldn't tell exactly which was his side, and to make sure of it he rooted for them all.

Hale was the only man to make four scores; several of the boys made three, and some of us did remarkably well to make one. It was a good game but not satisfactory, and we will have to try it over again next week.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning Aug. 24.—Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.
Topic.—Freedom for ourselves.—II. Tim. ii, 4; Gal. v, 1; Heb. xii, 1, 2.

God saves us not altogether for the sake of saving us, but also that our lives may be consecrated to Him. We are saved to serve. In the twelfth chapter of Romans Paul says, "I beseech you, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service." That this consecration and this service may be performed to the fullest extent it is absolutely necessary that we should be free and untrammelled in our service. That freedom for service is necessary Paul suggests to Timothy by the illustration of the soldier. "No man that warreth and tangleth himself with the affairs of this life, he may please Him hath chosen him to be a soldier." No soldier can be entangled with other affairs in life. He must give himself up entirely to the service; he must be free from worldly cares and avocations or he will be absolutely impossible for him to produce the best results as a soldier. The same thing is true of the Christian soldier. To be a good soldier of Jesus Christ we must have freedom for service.

We must be free from affairs of this life. There is nothing so much interferes with active Christian service as unnecessary association with the things of this world. A spirit of worldliness crushes out a spirit of consecration and service. An unwise indulgence even in the harmless things of life seriously interferes with the faithful performance of our obligations and our duties to God. Unnecessary worries about the cares and the business pursuits of life deprive us of the power to serve God as we ought to serve Him. While in the world we are not to be of the world to the extent that our relations with the world interfere with the performance of our duties to God.

2. We should be free from false conceptions of the law. "Stand fast, therefore, in the liberties wherewith Christ hath made us free and be not entangled again with the yoke of bondage." The yoke of bondage here referred to was the bondage of the law. It was the conception of the ancient people of God that they were to be saved by the observance of the law. The result was that they became slaves to the law. It usurped the place in their lives that Christ should have had, and it was impossible under these conditions for them to render the cheerful and wholehearted service to God that was His due. The lives of many Christian people have been made miserable and they have been made incompetent for service by a false attitude toward the law. The early religious experiences of Martin Luther were of this character. He was taught to look upon God as a severe judge ready to punish and to destroy him for the breaking of His law. He had no idea of God as a kind and loving Father or a realization of the fact that Christ had kept the law for him and had paid the penalty for him on the cross. The result was that his life was miserable and he was unfitted for the best and truest service. It was only when the scales fell from his eyes and he lived in the liberty wherewith Christ made him free that he was enabled to perform great service to God. Christians are not above the law; they are not immune from the penalties of the law, and yet in Christ they possess a freedom from it that should lead them to better lives and should give them greater liberty for effective and wholehearted service.

3. Freedom from besetting sins. "Let us lay aside every weight and the sin which doth so easily beset us and let us run with patience the race that is set before us, looking unto Jesus, the author and finisher of our faith." All sins have not the same attractive power for all people. What tempts one man may have no temptation for another. In each one of our lives are besetting sins or sins that easily tempt ourselves about us. The apostle here likens the form of such sins to the flowing robe of the Grecian athlete. He could easily understand how the runner would be hindered in the race if he had about him the loose, flowing garment of the Greek. It would wrap itself so closely about him as to hinder his every movement. Such is the result of besetting sins in the life of service. If they are allowed to have power and influence with us, they hinder us and destroy our powers for effective service. That we may be free to serve it is therefore important that we should lay aside all cares and all besetting sins and that we should look to Christ for the power to overcome besetting sins and to continue in the life of faithfulness and of patient service.

The Main Battlefield.

The main battlefield is the one which moves about with us, go where we will—ourselves. So dingy and inglorious oftentimes that we would like to flee it altogether and lose ourselves in some great campaign which should keep us from ever being reminded of it again! Great things have been wrought in the world by men who never won the battle of their own natures, but they are the standing incongruity and puzzle of the moral world. When the thing we want to do has outrun the thing we want to be, our thought about life has ceased to be real and moral, and God and man will forgive us all the delay that is necessary in order for us to go back into that battlefield of our own souls.—Sunday School Times.

The Test.

The test of a fine character is attention to the minutiae of conduct, to the little commonplace service of love, the cheerful word, the cup of cold water, when rendered not grudgingly or of necessity.—Friend.

AUTHOR LIKES POLITICS.

Winston Churchill has Ambitions to become a Lawmaker.
Winston Churchill, the author of "Richard Carvel," "The Crisis" and other popular books, is to compile his English manuscript and enter politics. The English author, soldier and politician has been a member of parliament for some time, and the American novelist has just announced his desire of becoming a member of the 1903 New Hampshire legislature. As Mr. Churchill is well liked by the people about his home he will probably be elected. His friends predict for the clever young man a brilliant career in politics. Mr. Churchill's home is known as Harakenden House. It is situated near Cornish, N. H., very near the Vermont line. So near is he to the Green Mountain State that his postoffice address is given as Windsor, Vt. Harakenden House is beautifully situated, overlooking the picturesque Connecticut river valley. Here Mr. Churchill lives the life of a country gentleman in sufficient seclusion to grant him leisure for the writing of the books that have made him famous and yet in touch with the world.

The subjects in which Mr. Churchill are particularly interested are forest preservation and the building of good roads, and it is on a platform advocating these that he seeks election. He said recently: "I am a candidate for the legislature because of a warm and increasing interest in New Hampshire and in national affairs. I intend to get on writing books just the same whether I secure the nomination and election or not."

Although Mr. Churchill is by birth a St. Louisian, his ancestry is Yankee. He was born Nov. 10, 1871, and was educated at South academy, St. Louis, and at the Naval academy. Mr. Churchill found naval life little to his liking and resigned from the service shortly after his graduation. In 1895 he was married to Miss Rachel H. Hall, a St. Louis girl. After resigning from the navy Mr. Churchill was employed on the Army and Navy Journal and the Cosmopolitan Magazine. He left the latter to devote all his time and attention to books. Mr. Churchill's first book, "The Celebrity," appeared in 1898.

NEW LITERARY LIGHT.

Wife of Chicago's Mayor, Who Has Written a Book.

Mrs. Carter H. Harrison, wife of the mayor of Chicago, who has just written a book, makes her debut in the field of literature as the author of a "Fairy Story For Little Ones," as she calls it. The book will be published during the coming fall, and the smart set of the city by the lake is eagerly awaiting an opportunity of passing judgment upon it.

Before her marriage to Mr. Harrison in 1887 the new authoress was Miss Edith Ogden, daughter of the Hon. Robert N. Ogden, judge of the Louisiana court of appeals at New Orleans. Miss Ogden was educated at a fashionable school in the Crescent City and later by private tutors. She speaks German fluently and has a good command of French. Mrs. Harrison has traveled extensively both in this country and in Europe. Although she is fond of society and well fitted in every way to take a leading part in its functions, she is devoted to her children and to literature.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL.

LESSON VIII, THIRD QUARTER, INTERNATIONAL SERIES, AUG. 24.

Text of the Lesson, Num. xiii, 1-5, 25-32; and xiv, 1-4.—Memory Verses, 30-32.—Golden Text, Ps. xl, 4.—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

(Copyright, 1902, by American Press Association.)
1-4. And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying, Send thou men that they may search the land of Canaan, which I give unto the children of Israel.

When they came to the borders of the land which God had promised to them (for it was only eleven days' journey from Horeb to Kadesh-barnea), Moses said: "Behold, the Lord thy God hath set the land before thee. Go up and possess it, as the Lord God of the fathers hath said unto thee. Fear not, neither be discouraged." But the people came to Moses and asked that men be sent to search out the land and bring back word as to the way to go and what cities to enter (Deut. i, 2, 21-23). The idea of spies therefore originated with the people and the Lord gave commandment to have it so, because they wanted it so, just as he afterwards the Lord commanded Samuel to give them a king because they insisted on having a king like other nations (1 Sam. viii, 4, 10-22). Read Ex. xiii, 7, 8, vi, 6-8, and consider it well and say in the face of such assurances if the people's request for spies was not simply a lack of faith in God.

25-32. And they returned from searching of the land after forty days.

They could not but testify that it was as God had said, a land flowing with milk and honey (Ex. xiii, 8; xxxiii, 3), but they had been using their natural eyes more than the eyes of their hearts (Eph. i, 18, R. V.) and instead of seeing only God and His goodness and His promises they saw difficulties which seemed to them insurmountable, for they forgot the deliverance from Egypt, and the dividing of the Red sea, and the quails and the manna so abundantly given, and so they fell of walled cities and giants and a strong people, and they seem not to reckon upon God at all. They believed not His word (Ps. cxi, 22, 24).

30. And Caleb stirred the people before Moses and said, Let us go up at once and possess the land, for we are willing to overcome it.

This was no vain boast or reliance upon themselves, but words uttered from a heart stayed upon Jehovah. Hear Caleb and Joshua in chapter xiv, 6: "If the Lord delight in us, then He will bring us into this land and give it to us; * * * only rebel not ye against the Lord, neither fear ye the people of the land, for we will be with us. Fear them not." Listen to this same Caleb forty-five years later when he said Joshua for the men whom he saw where the giants were. "And now, behold, the Lord hath kept me alive, as He said, these forty and five years. If so be the Lord will be with me, then I shall be able to drive them out, as the Lord said" (Josh. xiv, 10-12). He wholly followed the Lord and relied upon Him.

31-32. But the men that went up with him said, We be not able to go up against the people for they are stronger than we. Thus they brought up an evil report of the land, a slander upon the land itself. They saw the giants, and they saw themselves as grasshoppers. It was a case of "eye" and "they" but not a word about God. They are stronger than we. We were in their sight as grasshoppers. In our conflicts with the enemy as we pass through this wilderness or sojourn in the pleasant land everything depends upon our point of vision. If we see things from our standpoint, the giants and walled cities will seem very real. But if we see things from the standpoint of the Lord, the giants and walled cities will seem as nothing. When David went to meet Goliath, he did not consider his own weakness.

xiv, 1. And all the congregation lifted up their voice and cried, and the people wept

No wonder they acted thus when they were so unbelieving and rebellious against the Lord. They were a slight and reach of the good land, but occupied with themselves and despising the promises of God and even God Himself. See the record of a previous weeping in Num. xii, 4, 10, 13, 20, and a later one in Num. xxv, 6, and note that it was all because of unbelief, as was the weeping of Mary Magdalene at the tomb on the resurrection morning. Joy and peace come by believing, but in no other way (Rom. x, 12; John xiv, 1, 27; xxi, 27, 28).

2. And all the children of Israel murmured against Moses and against Aaron.

They even wished they were dead or might die in the wilderness, and many of them got their wish. Their thought was to get rid of their trouble. They had no thought or desire that God might be glorified in their death. Contrast John xxi, 19; Phil. i, 20. See records of other murmurings in Ex. xvi, 24; xvi, 2; xvi, 3; Num. xii, 11, 41. Did you not consider that their weeping was in the ears of the Lord and their murmurings against Him (Num. xii, 18; xiv, 26, 27; Ex. xvi, 38, nor that when they complained it displeased the Lord (Num. xii, 1)?

And they said one to another, Let us make a captain and let us return into Egypt.

The Lord Himself said their captain, as He also is ours (Josh. v, 14; I Chron. xxi, 2; Heb. ii, 10), but they said no more of this. They said that in their hearts they turned back again into Egypt, and Nehemiah says that in their rebellion they appointed a captain to return to their bondage (Acts vii, 30; Heb. ix, 17). Let us consider what is written about looking back in Gen. xii, 20; Luke ix, 62; xii, 22 and 23; 1 Peter iii, 12; and upward in Prov. i, 25; Heb. xii, 2; Phil. iii, 20.
